INSIDE A MONTESSORI CLASSROOM

At the beginning of the 20th century an Italian educator called Maria Montessori designed a method to make children learn independently and think creatively. Today it is not very easy to find schools with these kinds of programs. However, they are beginning to spread because this method is still one of the most innovative for young children.

The design of a Montessori classroom is very important as it creates a learning environment in which students feel calm and enjoy learning. These classrooms are carefully prepared places designed to meet the child’s needs at each level of development. They are beautiful spaces full of natural light, wooden blocks, books of all kinds, and flowers in glass vases.

Most schools have an infant room and a toddler room. Freedom is very important to help children to learn. That is why there aren’t any playpens or cribs in a Montessori infant classroom. Instead, they have an area for the youngest babies with soft mats and blankets on the floor so that they can move about freely. There are mirrors at floor level, and objects such as rattles to hold and shake. When the children begin to walk they have a lot of push and pull toys like walker wagons, and soft areas to climb and explore. There are also low shelves with fine-motor activities such as puzzles, and some containers to open and close, fill and empty.

Children move to the toddler room once they can walk steadily, usually when they are 18 months old. In these classrooms there are spaces for group activity and areas where students can learn on their own. Each space has a lot of shelves and tables where children can choose from a variety of materials and work with them for as long as they want. All the elements allow them independence: low furniture, small couches, and child-sized kitchen tools, and the children take part in activities that build self-discipline and concentration. For example, they care for classroom plants and pets, and help to maintain order by returning materials to the shelves.

A Montessori class is usually made up of 10 to 12 infants and toddlers, a Montessori teacher and an assistant. Teachers aren’t the focus of attention but act as a guide, observing the children while they are working and taking notes about their progress.

Reading comprehension

2 Read the text and answer the questions according to the information in the text. Use your own words.

a) Why are Montessori programs starting to become more popular?

b) Why do babies use mats and blankets instead of playpens and cribs?

c) How long can a child work with the same material?

d) What is the advantage of using child-sized furniture and tools for toddlers?

e) What do teachers usually do during the lessons?
3 Read the text again and decide if the following sentences are true or false. Copy the parts of the text that support your answers.
   a) Nowadays there are a lot of schools with Montessori programs.
   b) Infants and toddlers are usually in the same classroom.
   c) Children change to the toddler classroom when they start walking.
   d) The children can choose the objects that they want to work with.
   e) In a Montessori class there aren't more than twelve children.

Vocabulary

4 Look at the words in bold in the text. Find the right word for each definition. There are two words that you don't need to use.
   a) A small structure with bars in which babies can play safely.
   b) A container with wheels that toddlers can push when they are taking their first steps.
   c) A bed for a small baby.
   d) A toy that makes a noise when the baby shakes it.
   e) A small piece of carpet that you put on the floor for protection or comfort.

5 Tick the elements that you think belong to a Montessori classroom.
   a) An electric motorcycle
   b) A wooden musical instrument
   c) Balls of different sizes and textures
   d) Soft toys
   e) A tablet
   f) Rings
   g) A rattle
   h) A high shelf

6 Discuss with your partner. What are the differences and similarities between the Montessori teaching method and the methods followed in your country?

- Put the information in a clear format.
- Include useful information for parents.
- Be creative.
- Check for grammar mistakes.
An interview

1 What do you think parents should ask when they visit a day nursery for the first time? Write the five most important questions in your opinion.

1) ___________________________________________?
2) ___________________________________________?
3) ___________________________________________?
4) ___________________________________________?
5) ___________________________________________?

2 Mr Evans is calling a day nursery to get some information. Order the conversation between him (M) and the receptionist (R) of the school.

___1___ R: Good morning, Happy Kids Day Nursery. How can I help you?
___ M: Yes, could you tell me the fees?
___ R: It's 110€ per week for the full-day programme, Mr Evans. Would you like to come one day so we can meet you and show you around our facilities?
___ M: I'm interested in the full-time programme.
___ M: That's okay. I finish work at 5 p.m. And how many children are there in each group?
___ R: The full-day programme starts at 8 a.m. and finishes at 6 p.m.
___ R: There are usually 10 children. Is there anything else I can help with?
___ M: First of all, what are your timetables?
___ M: Sure, I'd like to see the building and meet the staff. When are you available?
___ R: Mrs Stammers, the headteacher, is available tomorrow at 5:30. Is that okay?
___ M: Yes, I'll be there at 5:30. Thank you.
___ R: Yes, what would you like to know, Mr Evans?
___ M: Good morning, my name is Marshall Evans. I have a one-year-old son and I'm thinking of sending him to nursery. I'm phoning for some information about your day nursery.
___ R: Well, it depends. We have a full-day programme and a half-day programme.

3 Read the conversation again and classify the expressions in bold according to their functions.

a) Giving the reason for a call
b) Making a request
c) Making an offer
d) Promising action

4 Work in pairs. Read the instructions in the cards and role-play a conversation between Mr Evans and Mrs Stammers.

Student A
You are Mr Evans. You are in Happy Kids Day Nursery because you want to get information about it. Ask the headteacher about:
- The facilities
- The fees
- The classrooms
- The staff
- The timetables

Student B
You are Mrs Stammers. Show the facilities to Mr Evans and answer all her questions about the nursery and the staff.
1. Translate the following sentences into your language.

1. Get in the car! We’re leaving in five minutes.
2. We’re nearly there!
3. It’s going to take another twenty minutes.
4. Let’s play some music!
5. Why don’t you play with your toys?
6. Why don’t we play a game?
7. Do you need to go to the loo?
8. Are you feeling sick?
9. Put your seatbelt on!
10. I don’t want you to eat anything in the car.
11. Don’t lean forward!
12. Stop jumping!
13. Look! We are coming to a tunnel!
14. We’ve just arrived!
15. Wait for mummy/daddy to open your door.
Parents usually visit several nurseries in their area in order to choose the one that best meets their child's needs. This will increase the chances of finding the perfect place for their children. The first impressions of a nursery are essential. Is there a friendly and warm atmosphere? Do children look happy? That is why it is so important to visit the place personally. Most parents prepare a list of questions regarding facilities, methodology, staff, activities, teaching and learning processes, among others. Recommendations from other parents are another way to get some feedback from the school. Talking to them may be enough to convince parents that a specific nursery is perfect for their kids.

TASK
Go to a nursery and find out information about it.

PREPARATION
Write down the list of questions you may ask when you visit the nursery.
Consider the following topics and your own ideas: location, staff, activities/routine, rules, likes and dislikes, morning assembly and language skills.

FOLLOW-UP
Give a presentation about the nursery for your classmates.
